Learn to Master Virtual Presentations

Whether you are in corporate, academia or the public service sector, presenting over the web is becoming the norm for learning and development professionals.

To present online successfully takes a new skill set and it's a very different ballgame from presenting in person. Sure, you don't have to fret about what to wear or if you're going to trip on stage, but you do have to worry about how to engage, involve and understand your audience.

Engage in a Dynamic Program

In this MasterClass you will learn how to develop and deliver engaging live, online training webinars and identify the optimum place for webinars in a blended learning program.

OTHER KEY LEARNINGS INCLUDE:

- ▶ Three “marketing for trainers” tactics to have trainees show up eager to learn
- ▶ Presentation slide design and practical exercises for the unique webinar “room”
- ▶ How to master virtual eye contact, body language and dialogue
- ▶ Using Twitter and social media in conjunction with webinars
- ▶ How to optimise live learning sessions with effective use of handouts
- ▶ And there's much more!
